

Wallpaper murals for the curious explorer

THE NEW COLLECTION "CURIOUS" PAYS HOMAGE TO THE EXPLORER - THE DISTANT LAND DISCOVERER, THE URBAN SPRAWL UNCOVERER.

ODD CAN BE MAGNIFICENT

Rebel Walls continues to bring a brand new perspective to interior design. The new collection "Curious", takes inspiration from the offbeat, the vintage and the abandoned. What once was new and uniform, becomes unique, interesting and even odd. Odd can be magnificent if you look closely.

BEAUTY IN DECAY

By slowing down and taking a second look, the ordinary will reveal itself as extraordinary, and only the truly curious will see there is beauty to be found in decay. Each design in the collection takes a snapshot of the astonishing beauty that can be found in the most unexpected places, capturing it for eternity, before it further evolves into something else entirely.

ONLY THE TRULY CURIOUS TAKE A SECOND LOOK

Johanna Ek, Design Manager at Rebel Walls, says:

"With this collection, we recognise the curious explorers with a taste for the unconventional. Some of the motifs in this collection might at first glance appear 'odd' or 'faded'; but we encourage everyone to take a second look and uncover the most extraordinary beauty in unexpected surroundings."

There are 20 stunning designs to choose from in the Curious Collection. Here is a selection of them:

PERSPECTIVE MANOIR

This may be the last image caught of this magnificent inner façade – the walls and floor almost caved when shooting this photograph. The true-to-size windows offer light and a view where there was previously just a plain wall.

CABINET OF CURIOS

This cabinet reveals a surprise every time you look at it. It might be the arsenic, the stuffed crow or it might be the bottle dating all the way back to 1897 – it always has a new surprise. None of the dusting that comes with a traditional cabinets, but all of the intrigue.

There is beauty to be found in decay.
